After adding the penalty assessments to any fine, the judge may waive all or part of the total assessment (fines plus surcharges), excluding the time payment fee, if it would cause a hardship on the convicted person or convicted person's immediate family. If a portion of the total assessment is waived, the amount assessed must be divided according to the portion that the fine and surcharges represent of the total amount due. When the total assessment includes a mandatory fine, the judge may waive all or part of the surcharges for that mandatory fine. However, mandatory fines may not be reduced to an amount less than the mandatory minimum and the surcharges must be reduced proportionately; one cannot be waived or reduced without waiving or reducing the others. The time payment fee may NOT be waived or reduced.

A person convicted of a first or second offense for the personal possession or use of a controlled substance as defined in A.R.S. §36-2501 must be placed on probation, but incarceration may not be imposed as a condition of probation for a first offense. This mandatory probation provision does not apply to persons convicted of a violent offense defined in A.R.S. §13-604.04. Participation in an appropriate drug treatment or education program is a required condition of probation. Each person enrolled in a program shall pay for participation in the program to the extent of the person's financial ability.

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE OFFENSES

Pursuant to A.R.S. §13-3601.01, the court must order a person convicted of a misdemeanor domestic violence offense to complete a domestic violence offender treatment program, unless the person previously has completed a program as ordered and the court deems alternative sanctions to be more appropriate. On conviction of a misdemeanor domestic violence offense, if a person within a period of sixty months has previously been convicted of a domestic violence offense (as defined in A.R.S. §13-3601) or is convicted in another jurisdiction of an act that if committed in this state would be a domestic violence offense, the judge may order the person to be placed on supervised probation and the person may be incarcerated as a condition of probation. If the person is incarcerated and is either employed or a student, the court may provide in the sentence that the person may continue the employment or studies for not more than twelve hours a day nor more than five days a week and be allowed out of jail only long enough to complete the actual hours of employment or studies. The person must spend the remaining day, days or parts of days in jail until the sentence is served. Pursuant to A.R.S. § 13-3601.02 if a person is guilty of aggravated domestic violence the person must serve not less than four months in jail. If a person is convicted of aggravated domestic violence and has been convicted of three or more prior domestic violence offenses within 60 months the person must serve at least eight months in jail. For purposes of these sections, previous convictions of domestic violence offenses apply only to convictions for offenses committed on or after January 1, 1999. Pursuant to A.R.S. § 13-3601 (L) the maximum sentence otherwise authorized shall be increased by up to two years if a person is convicted of a felony domestic violence offense against a pregnant victim knowing the victim was pregnant.

The community supervision term is one day for every seven days of the sentence imposed, A.R.S. §13-603 (I), except pursuant to A.R.S. §13-603 (J).

A.R.S. §13-603 (J)– In calculating the term of community supervision, all fractions shall be decreased to the nearest month, except for a class 5 or 6 felony which shall not be less than one month. *

The court must sentence the person to a term of probation equal to or greater than the term of community supervision that would have been imposed. The court may retroactively waive the term of community supervision or that part remaining to be served if the community supervision was imposed prior to 7/21/97. A.R.S. §13-603 (K).
