State Bar File No. 13-0898

AGREEMENT FOR DISCIPLINE BY CONSENT

The State Bar of Arizona, through undersigned Bar Counsel, and Respondent, Jeff Adrian Biddle, who has chosen not to seek the assistance of counsel, hereby submit their Agreement for Discipline by Consent, pursuant to Rule 57(a), Ariz. R. Sup. Ct.¹

On April 11, 2014, the Attorney Discipline Probable Cause Committee ("ADPCC") considered the State Bar's recommendation for diversion (LOMAP and CLE) and costs, to which Respondent did not object. ADPCC declined the bar's recommendation and, on April 28, 2014, issued its "Order of Admonition, Probation ¹All references to rules are to the Arizona Rules of the Supreme Court unless otherwise specifically stated.

(LOMAP and CLE), and Costs.” Respondent appealed from the April 28 order and, on August 5, 2014, ADPCC issued its “Order Vacating Admonition, Probation (LOMAP and CLE), and Costs.” Pursuant to Rules 55(c) and 58(a), ADPCC directed the State Bar to file a formal complaint. The State Bar filed a complaint on August 8, 2014, Respondent filed his Answer on September 19, 2014, and the parties attended a settlement conference presided over by retired Maricopa County Superior Court Judge Penny Willrich on November 12, 2014.

As a result of Judge Willrich’s efforts the parties compromised. Respondent agreed to accept admonition rather than diversion and the State Bar agreed not to insist upon probation if Respondent voluntarily satisfied ADPCC’s probationary requirements (LOMAP and CLE). Respondent furnished his Certificate of Completion and copies of his class notes proving he attended the prescribed CLE program entitled “The Heart of a Firm: Working Effectively and Ethically with Non-lawyer Professional Staff.” Respondent also has undergone a LOMAP assessment. The State Bar’s LOMAP director, Roberta Tepper, conducted the assessment with undersigned bar counsel in attendance. Ms. Tepper and bar counsel agree that, with minimal “tweaking” that does not require further supervision, Respondent’s existing policies and procedures enable him and his staff to operate his downsized law office professionally and ethically.

Although the form of discipline in this proposed consent is less severe than what ADPCC imposed, the parties agree that the purposes of lawyer discipline will be satisfied by imposition of an admonition without probation. Specifically, Respondent’s personal and professional circumstances have changed since the time of the underlying conduct and when ADPCC considered this matter. Those changed circumstances are set forth in the letter from Respondent to bar counsel dated December 2, 2014, a copy of which is attached hereto as Ex. A.

Respondent voluntarily waives the right to an adjudicatory hearing, unless otherwise ordered, and waives all motions, defenses, objections or requests which have been made or raised, or could be asserted thereafter, if the conditional admissions and proposed form of discipline are approved.

Pursuant to Rule 53(b)(3), by letter and email on December 2, 2014, the State Bar notified Complainants of this agreement and of their opportunity to file a written objection to the agreement with the State Bar within five (5) business days of bar counsel's notice.

Respondent conditionally admits that his conduct, as set forth below, violated Rule 42, ERs 1.3 (Diligence), 1.6 (Confidentiality), 1.16(d) (Duties on Termination of Representation), 5.3(a) and (b) (Responsibilities Regarding Nonlawyer Assistants), and 8.4(d) (Conduct Prejudicial to the Administration of Justice). Upon acceptance of this agreement, Respondent agrees to accept imposition of the following discipline: Admonition. Respondent also agrees to pay the costs and expenses of the disciplinary proceeding, within 30 days from the date of this order, and if costs are not paid within the 30 days, interest will begin to accrue at the legal rate.² The State Bar's Statement of Costs and Expenses is attached hereto as Exhibit B.

² Respondent understands that the costs and expenses of the disciplinary proceeding include the costs and expenses of the State Bar of Arizona, the Disciplinary Clerk, the Probable Cause Committee, the Presiding Disciplinary Judge and the Supreme Court of Arizona.

COUNT ONE of ONE (File no. 13-0898/Charles & Amanda Fishback)

1. Respondent was licensed to practice law in Arizona on February 15, 2006.

2. Charles and Amanda Fishback (hereinafter "Fishbacks") hired Respondent's firm in July 2011 to handle their Chapter 13 bankruptcy.

3. Respondent's associate, Ryan Hardy, handled the case initially but later left Respondent's firm.

4. The Fishbacks and Mr. Hardy met in July 2011 and Mr. Hardy filed the Chapter 13 petition in August.

5. Mr. Hardy left Respondent's firm in September 2012 and Respondent took over the case.

6. Respondent asked the Fishbacks for documents they already had provided to Mr. Hardy that Respondent was unable to locate.

7. Respondent claimed that he could not locate documents because Mr. Hardy had the Fishbacks email them to an email address Mr. Hardy kept separate from the law firm.

8. In August and September 2012 Mr. Hardy used a Gmail address for email because Respondent's law firm email system did not work.

9. In January 2013 the Fishbacks received notice from the court of a confirmation hearing scheduled for February 5, 2013.

10. The trustee mailed a copy of that notice to Respondent.

11. A member of Respondent's staff told the Fishbacks that Mr. Hardy had left the firm, someone else would attend the hearing, and that the new attorney would contact them if he needed anything from them.

12. On January 21, 2013, Respondent signed and filed a Notice of Change of Address that reaffirmed that his law firm was counsel of record for the Fishbacks and identified him as the appearing attorney.

13. On February 5, neither Respondent nor anyone from his office appeared for the confirmation hearing.

14. On February 8, 2013, the trustee lodged a Proposed Dismissal Order calling for written objections to dismissal to be filed within 14 days.

15. A copy of the Proposed Dismissal Order was sent to Respondent.

16. Respondent miscalendared the February 5 date for February 6. He asked the trustee to postpone seeking a dismissal while he assembled the documents necessary to obtain plan approval.

17. Respondent did not assemble the necessary documents within the time allotted, did not seek a court-approved extension, and did not object to the Proposed Dismissal Order.

18. The court dismissed the Fishbacks' bankruptcy case on March 4, 2013.

19. On February 8, Chase Bank filed a Notice of Default and Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay, claiming that the Fishbacks failed to pay two mortgage payments.

20. The bank was incorrect; the Fishbacks had sent the payments to the bank's counsel at Tiffany & Bosco. The Fishbacks proved that they paid.

21. The bank withdrew its Notice of Default and filed a Motion to Withdraw its Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay. The court granted the withdrawal motion on March 2, 2013.

22. On March 16, 2013, Toyota tried to repossess the Fishbacks' minivan.

23. The Fishbacks learned from Toyota that the bankruptcy case was dismissed March 4.

24. The Fishbacks called Respondent and he explained that the case was dismissed in error due to confusion over Chase Bank's erroneous Notice of Default and Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay.

25. Respondent promised to get the case reinstated and contact Toyota and Acura (the latter of whom had a lien on the Fishbacks' other vehicle) to guard against any more repossession actions.

26. The Fishbacks met with Respondent on March 20, 2013, and expressed their concerns over the seeming lack of attention Respondent was giving to their legal matter.

27. Respondent blamed Mr. Hardy, his own divorce, his personal financial situation, and his overwhelmed staff.

28. Respondent again asked for documents that the Fishbacks already provided to Mr. Hardy.

29. On March 25, 2013, the Fishbacks emailed Logan Heilman, Respondent's paralegal, seeking an update.

30. Mr. Heilman apologized for the problems the Fishbacks had experienced in the case and assured them that he would be "on top of things going forward."

31. On April 8, Acura repossessed the Fishbacks' other car.

32. The Fishbacks went to Respondent's office and talked to Mr. Heilman. Mr. Heilman retrieved an email from the trustee dated March 28, 2013, stating he would not consider the case for reinstatement until Respondent corrected errors in his proposed Stipulated Order of Confirmation ("SOC").

33. Mr. Heilman also told the Fishbacks the truth about why their case was dismissed. He explained to the Fishbacks that the case was dismissed not because of Chase Bank's erroneous Notice of Default over allegedly missed mortgage payments, but, rather, because Respondent failed to appear for the February 5 confirmation hearing.

34. Respondent joined the conversation and grew defensive, combative, and argumentative, blaming delays on a "new judge," "tough trustee," and that the trustee would not accept electronic signatures.

35. During this meeting the Fishbacks saw multiple piles of paperwork strewn about the office and floor with other clients' personal information laying out in the open.

36. The Fishbacks used a computer in Respondent's office to retrieve bank statements and saw several clients' files laying on the desk.

37. The Fishbacks dismissed Respondent and hired a new lawyer.

38. When the Fishbacks delivered notice of the firing to Respondent, they asked for their file.

39. The clerk at the office gave the Fishbacks copies of documents the Fishbacks provided earlier that day. While they were waiting the Fishbacks could see files containing other clients' personal information.

40. The Fishbacks later discovered that Respondent's staffer included another client's bank statement in the documents he gave to them.

41. On April 16, 2013, the new attorney told the Fishbacks that the trustee accepted their SOC and that they could recover their Acura the next day.

42. The court entered a reinstatement order on April 17.

43. The Fishbacks emailed Respondent on April 18 to say that they would come over to pick up their file.

44. The Fishbacks arrived at noon and found their file in a manila folder taped to the outside front door jamb of the office; anyone could have taken it. The folder was marked: "Fishback Have a Swell Day!" followed by a smiley face emoticon.

45. Respondent's paralegal taped the file to the door adjacent to a glass panel where it remained in plain view of a receptionist seated facing the door until the Fishbacks retrieved their file. Respondent has instructed the paralegal that this method of leaving files or information for anyone is unacceptable and will not be tolerated.

CONDITIONAL ADMISSIONS

Respondent's admissions are being tendered in exchange for the form of discipline stated below and are submitted freely and voluntarily and not as a result of coercion or intimidation.

Respondent conditionally admits that his conduct violated Rule 42, Ariz. R. Sup. Ct., specifically ERs 1.3 (Diligence), 1.6 (Confidentiality), 1.16(d) (Duties on Termination of Representation), 5.3(a) and (b) (Responsibilities Regarding Nonlawyer Assistants), and 8.4(d) (Conduct Prejudicial to the Administration of Justice).

RESTITUTION

Restitution is not an issue in this matter.

SANCTION

Respondent and the State Bar of Arizona agree that based on the facts and circumstances of this matter the following sanctions are appropriate: Admonition and costs. If Respondent violates any of the terms of this agreement, further discipline proceedings may be brought.

LEGAL GROUNDS IN SUPPORT OF SANCTION

In determining an appropriate sanction, the parties consulted the American Bar Association's Standards for Imposing Lawyer Sanctions (Standards) pursuant to Rule 57(a)(2)(E). The Standards are designed to promote consistency in the imposition of sanctions by identifying relevant factors that courts should consider and then applying those factors to situations where lawyers have engaged in various types of misconduct. Standards 1.3, Commentary. The Standards provide guidance with respect to an appropriate sanction in this matter. In re Peasley, 208 Ariz. 27, 33, 35, 90 P.3d 764, 770 (2004); In re Rivkind, 162 Ariz. 154, 157, 791 P.2d 1037, 1040 (1990).

In determining an appropriate sanction consideration is given to the duty violated, the lawyer's mental state, the actual or potential injury caused by the misconduct, and the existence of aggravating and mitigating factors. Peasley, 208 Ariz. at 35, 90 P.3d at 772; Standard 3.0.

The duty violated

Respondent's conduct violated his duty to his clients, the legal profession, and the legal system.

The lawyer's mental state

The parties agree that Respondent's conduct was done with a negligent mental state.

The extent of the actual or potential injury

The parties agree that there was actual and potential harm to clients, the legal profession, and the legal system.

The parties agree that the following Standards are relevant:

ER 1.3 (Diligence)

Standard 4.43-Reprimand is generally appropriate when a lawyer is negligent and does not act with reasonable diligence in representing a client, and causes injury or potential injury to a client.

ER 1.6 (Confidentiality)

Standard 4.24-Admonition is generally appropriate when a lawyer negligently reveals information relating to the representation of a client not otherwise lawfully permitted to be disclosed, and this disclosure causes little or no actual or potential injury to a client.

ER 1.16(d) (Duties on Termination of Representation); and

ER 5.3(a) and (b) (Responsibilities Regarding Nonlawyer Assistants)

Standard 7.4-Admonition is generally appropriate when a lawyer engages in an isolated instance of negligence that is a violation of a duty owed as a professional, and causes little or no actual potential injury to a client, the public, or the legal system.

ER 8.4(d)

Standard 6.23-Reprimand is generally appropriate when a lawyer negligently fails to comply with a court order or rule, and causes injury or potential injury to a client or a party, or interference or potential interference with a legal proceeding.

Aggravating and mitigating circumstances

The presumptive sanction in this matter ranges from admonition to reprimand. The parties conditionally agree that the following aggravating and mitigating factors should be considered.

In aggravation: Standard 9.22-

- (d) multiple offenses; and
- (i) substantial experience in the practice of law.

In mitigation: Standard 9.32-

- (a) absence of a prior disciplinary record;
- (b) absence of a dishonest or selfish motive;
- (c) personal or emotional problems. The underlying events occurred during Respondent's extraordinarily emotional and stressful divorce and Order of Protection proceedings beginning in October 2011 that rendered him less attentive to his office administration responsibilities. See generally, Maricopa County Superior Court cause nos. FC2011-095003, In re the Marriage of Jeff Adrian Biddle, Petitioner, and Mary Catherine Biddle, Respondent; and FC2013-091834, Mary Catherine Biddle v. Jeff Adrian Biddle.
- (e) full and free disclosure to a disciplinary board or cooperative attitude toward proceedings; and
- (l) remorse.

Discussion

The parties conditionally agree that upon application of the aggravating and mitigating factors the presumptive sanction should be mitigated to admonition. The mitigating factors outnumber and outweigh the aggravating factors, something ADPCC did not know inasmuch as Sanctions considerations generally do not enter into its deliberations.

CONCLUSION

Based on the Standards and in light of the foregoing, the parties conditionally agree that the sanction of admonition is within the range of appropriate sanction and will serve the purposes of lawyer discipline. Respondent has satisfied what would otherwise be ADPCC's probationary requirements. He passed his LOMAP assessment and benefits from a significant preponderance of mitigating over aggravating factors, things ADPCC did not know (and would not have known) when it considered Respondent's case.

The object of lawyer discipline is not to punish the lawyer, but to protect the public, the profession and the administration of justice. Peasley, supra at ¶ 64, 90 P.3d at 778. Recognizing that determination of the appropriate sanction is the prerogative of the Presiding Disciplinary Judge, the State Bar and Respondent believe that the objectives of discipline will be met by imposition of an Admonition and the costs and expenses. A proposed form order is attached hereto as Exhibit C.

Re: Jeff Adrian Biddle, Bar No. 024241
PDJ2014-9068
State Bar File No. 13-0898

Dear Mr. Sandweiss,

I am extremely grateful that we were able to reach a settlement that did not include probation in the above mentioned file. This letter is to inform you of the changes in circumstances that have occurred since this complaint was initially filed and the time of the allegations in the complaint.

CHANGES IN CIRCUMSTANCES

Highly contested divorce has since been resolved

At the time that the alleged actions took place, I was going through a very contested divorce (please see attached family court docket printout, attached hereto as Exhibit A). In looking at the docket, you can also see that, since the matter has been resolved with my ex-wife, there have been no other filings in the case. My ex-wife alleged that I was mentally unstable and indirectly filed her own bar complaints against me through her counsel and her boyfriend. My ex-wife's complaints were filed at about the same time as the complaint in this matter and I was overwhelmed by dealing with all of the issues that my ex-wife was creating for me with the courts and the State Bar. To address the allegations that my ex-wife made about my mental health, I saw a counselor and psychiatrist and participated in a family assessment with Dr. David Weinstock who issued a 35-page assessment of the family indicated that "Parents apparently agreed to follow a 5-2-2-5 plan if Father was psychologically stable. It appears that Father is stable at the current time. Currently, supervised parenting time does not appear warranted." From March 2012 until May 2014, my ex-wife was attempting to restrict my parenting time and prove that I was an unfit parent in need of supervised parenting time. Even after she received an order for supervised parenting time, she failed to abide by the order. In any event, we have agreed to equal parenting time on a 5-2-2-5 basis and resolved the other issues that were present in the litigation. Counseling was extremely helpful in learning how to disengage from the conflicts that were present in my personal life and will greatly diminish the chances for additional issues with my ex-wife in the future. Therefore, the personal issues that likely exacerbated the issues in my professional life are far less likely to recur.

Putting Your Family First

Change in Law Firm

Size of Firm Decreased

At the time of the allegations, the law firm had a staff of two additional associate attorneys and approximately 6-7 other support staff. I have since downsized to a much smaller office, have no other attorneys to supervise and only have two part-time assistants that assist me as a sole practitioner. This has made supervision of my staff far easier and severely decreased the number of cases that I need to be involved with.

New Procedures for Safeguarding Client Property

Our office now has a shared receptionist and front desk that is outside the physical location of the law firm. Having a shared receptionist and front desk now gives us a person that can be a dedicated and secure drop-off and pick-up location rather than taping anything to the front door. I have also had discussions / training with all staff to address the issues that were alleged in the complaint to ensure that this behavior does not recur.

Change in Case Management Software

We also changed our case management program to mycase.com from Daylite. This allows clients to access their file documents online and includes calendaring of hearings and reminder emails to both the client and attorney for upcoming hearings. The staff is trained to double check all hearings on a weekly basis to ensure that missed hearings do not happen in the future.

Change in Office Procedures

My staff has been trained on client confidentiality and all case documents, including incoming and outgoing mail are all scanned and linked to the client's case and are available to clients and staff online through mycase.com. We rarely take possession of any original documents that need to be returned to clients and if a client needs documents from their file, they can log in and get a copy of anything that the firm has (except attorney notes and internal documents) from their online case file.

CLE

The recommended discipline from the ADPCC called for me complete a CLE course entitled "The Heart of a Firm". I have completed the CLE and given my handwritten notes to the State Bar and retained a copy for my file.

LOMAP Assessment

The recommended discipline from the ADPCC called for a year of probation to complete a LOMAP assessment. I have undergone an assessment with LOMAP and it was determined that additional monitoring by LOMAP was not necessary.

Warmest regards,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Jeff Biddle", with a large, stylized flourish extending to the right.

EXHIBIT B

Statement of Costs and Expenses

In the Matter of a Current Member of the State Bar of Arizona,
Jeff Adrian Biddle, Bar No. 024241, Respondent

File No. 13-0898

Administrative Expenses

The Supreme Court of Arizona has adopted a schedule of administrative expenses to be assessed in lawyer discipline. If the number of charges/complainants exceeds five, the assessment for the general administrative expenses shall increase by 20% for each additional charge/complainant where a violation is admitted or proven.

Factors considered in the administrative expense are time expended by staff bar counsel, paralegal, secretaries, typists, file clerks and messenger; and normal postage charges, telephone costs, office supplies and all similar factors generally attributed to office overhead. As a matter of course, administrative costs will increase based on the length of time it takes a matter to proceed through the adjudication process.

General Administrative Expenses for above-numbered proceedings

$1,200.00

Additional costs incurred by the State Bar of Arizona in the processing of this disciplinary matter, and not included in administrative expenses, are itemized below.

Staff Investigator/Miscellaneous Charges

06/26/13	Computer investigation reports, PACER	$	32.30
	Total for staff investigator charges	$	32.30
TOTAL COSTS AND EXPENSES INCURRED			$ 1,232.30
